

AFSC – Hill AFB UT FACTS Sheet

Overview: Hill Air Force Base (HAFB), located in Ogden Utah, is part of Air Force Materiel Command (AFMC), which obligates approximately 70% of AF contract dollars. Hill AFB is one of 3 sustainment complexes which are part of the Air Force Sustainment Center (AFSC) headquartered at Tinker AFB OK. Hill is home to multiple missions under multiple commands all working together to support American’s defense. Requirements which are issued from Hill Contracting are initiated from our major mission partners including the Ogden Air Logistics

Complex (OO-ALC), the 75th Air Base Wing (ABW), AF Life Cycle Management Center

(AFLCMC), Air Force Nuclear Weapons Center (NWC) and the 748th Supply Chain Management Group.

Mission of AFSC: Sustaining weapon system readiness to generate airpower for America. The ALC manages depot-level maintenance production and manufacturing facilities and laboratories in the restoration of Air Force equipment and aircraft to serviceable condition. The 75th ABW is the host organization and is responsible for facilities and equipment support, for logistics, medical, civil engineering, security and mission support functions. AFLCMC, headquartered at Wright Patterson AFB OH is responsible for the total life cycle management of Air Force weapon systems. The NWC is responsible for acquisition, system engineering and depot repair to sustain ICBM systems. The 748th mission is to provide enterprise-wide planning and execution for depot line repairable and consumable materiel, aircraft structural and commodities management. The weapon systems supported include, F-16 Falcon, A-10 Thunderbolt II, F-22 Raptor, C-130 Hercules and 27 other actively flying, mature and proven weapon systems, including the Minuteman III Intercontinental Ballistic Missile.

Tenants at Hill AFB: The base is also home to the Air Combat Command’s 388th Fighter Wing and 729th Air Control Squadron, Air Force Reserve Command’s 419th Fighter Wing, as well as Air Education and Training Command’s 367 Training Support Squadron and 368th Recruiting Squadron.
